John Walker- Division Dean

First and foremost, I would like to extend a warm B&I welcome to Dr. Corina Gardea, our new Chief Academic Officer. Please help me make her feel welcome as she settles into her new position. I would like to welcome Nemecio "Chito" Chavez our new full-time instructor in Computer & Information Technology. Congratulations to Melinda Chavez who just recently received her PhD and to Susan Pinkerton for winning this year's Roush Award. Congratulations to Diane Prince who is now at the helm of the Health Information Technology program as a twelve-month faculty.

This semester continues to see burgeoning enrollments. Tax Help New Mexico is gearing up for the 2005 tax season combining the efforts of DABCC and the Community Action Agency (CAA) to create a "mega" tax preparation site at CAA. A huge thank you in advance to everyone involved in this program. As we begin another semester, I wish you the best!

Research Topic: The Journeys of the Nontraditional Women of Mexican Origin Whose First Language is Spanish

The research was done on the women here at DABCC. The research used the interview sessions to investigate these women's past and present lives in an attempt to determine how and why they continued their quest to complete their degree.

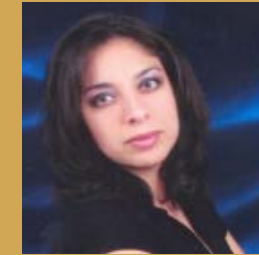

Who am I?

Good News...

Things to smile about.

Outstanding Graduate- Rose Avalos

My name is Rose Avalos, and I recently graduated from DABCC. My experience at DABCC was truly amazing. I majored in the Business Office Technology program and received an associate degree. Since DABCC is staffed with many skilled instructors, the learning opportunities are countless. I had the privilege of being a Crimson Scholar, making the Dean's Honor List, and being chosen as the Outstanding Graduate for the Business and Information Systems Division. Currently, I am working at Southern Mexico Cancer Center.

My GPA was 3.8. I have gained many valuable and essential skills from attending DABCC.

Library Science Program:

Last fall, Susan Pinkerton was featured in "Library Mosaics", a national magazine for library support staff, thus giving the online Library Science program recognition. In March 2006, she has also been chosen to be highlighted in the "Movers and Shakers Issue" of "Library Journal", another national publication, for work in getting the program online and offered nationwide.

More Good News

When you see Susan, congratulate her on being the current Roush Award winner...
